New Brunswick Ciclovia

Manuel J. Castañeda, MS, MJ
Director of Community Health
New Brunswick Tomorrow
For 40 years, New Brunswick Tomorrow has been working with its partners, including the city, local schools and other community organizations, to help identify problems and find solutions.

As a non-profit agency, NBT concentrates its efforts in the areas of youth, healthcare and neighborhood development.

Whether NBT is creating new programs to serve city residents or replicating ones that have been successful elsewhere, the goal is always the same: to move people forward.

“Health equity means addressing avoidable inequalities for all groups, with a focus on those who have experienced socioeconomic disadvantage or historical injustice, so that all people and communities feel empowered to achieve the highest level of health.”

— Association of State and Territorial Health Officials
Connecting Community Based Strategies

Healthier New Brunswick brings our work together to improve the health and well-being of all New Brunswick Residents.

- Partnerships are necessary. Partners play a variety of roles and, at their best, are trusted members of the communities and populations they serve.
- A wide range of actions contribute to and support healthy communities.
