International Student Orientation: Bicycle Safety Workshop

In New Brunswick, September means the arrival of thousands of new and returning students beginning a new year of their college education. However, before the Labor Day weekend, when SUVs and minivans congregate on New Brunswick streets, international students are asked to arrive early and take part in a weeklong orientation. Last Thursday (August 28), The Center for Global Service invited the New Jersey Bicycle and Pedestrian Resource Center (NJBPRC) to host an orientation session on bicycling at Rutgers and in New Jersey as part of this orientation week.

Bike Shares

Northern New Jersey Bike Share

Over the past few years, third-generation bicycle share programs have increased in popularity across U.S. cities, mimicking a trend started in Europe a decade ago. They are identified as systems that allow people to borrow bikes to get from one location to another without having to return the bicycle to its original location. As the number of people commuting by bicycle has increased in the past decade, adding a bike share system is being seen as a natural next step in public transportation.

New Brunswick Begins Introducing On-street Parking Corrals

Bicycle Parking

An innovative strategy to help get more people to choose bicycling as their preferred form of transportation for daily, local trips is by introducing on-street bicycle parking corrals near businesses. In Central New Jersey, the city of New Brunswick has recently been taking steps to make bicycling safer, more comfortable and more convenient, and this fall they're moving forward with a program that will bring bicycle parking corrals to area streets.

NJAIM 8/ 15 to 9/ 1 Highlights

Community Outreach in New Jersey

NJAIM is the New Jersey Bicycle and Pedestrian Resource Center's public outreach team. The team consists of adult ambassadors trained to educate and conduct outreach to bicyclists, pedestrians, and motorists to promote safety and active transportation throughout the state of New Jersey. The Ambassadors employ four forms of outreach: event outreach, classroom outreach, on-street outreach, and municipal/governmental outreach/assistance.

COMPLETE STREETS IN NEW JERSEY

An up-to-date list of Complete Street policies in New Jersey

There are currently 105 municipalities and 7 counties with Complete Streets policies in NJ, with the Town of Secaucus in Hudson County (NJ) being the most recent addition. This brings the total NJ population living in municipalities with Complete Streets policies to over 3 million people or 34% of the population. Essex and Bergen Counties lead the way with 12 municipalities having adopted policies each, followed by Morris County and Mercer County (10 municipalities each). Salem and Passaic Counties remain the only counties without any municipal Complete Streets policies.
